Experience our New and Improved Training – The 7 Principles of The Rights of The Child

Exciting news! 🎉 Our team has revamped our flagship course, "The 7 Principles of the Rights of the Child" after months of hard work. We've upgraded the content, redesigned activities, and refreshed visuals. We're eager to hear your feedback!

If you've already taken the course but want to try the enhanced version, go ahead! You'll earn extra training credits from Médecins francophones du Canada and The Barreau du Québec.

CSP Network Youth Lead Law Session at Université du Québec à Montréal and Université de Montreal!

This year, young participants from two CSPC's delivered engaging lectures to university law students. Both sessions ignited enthusiastic responses from professors and students alike. A big shoutout to all the young speakers for their outstanding contributions and a heartfelt thank you to the mentors who guided them every step of the way!

The Rights Committee at the Au coin de MA rue CSPC performed a play addressing racism in the justice system and its effects on children for Professor Alain Roy and law students at Université de Montreal.

The Rights Committee of Le Tandem CSPC held a discussion on the realities of 2SLGBTQ+ youth with Professor Valérie Costanzo and law students at the Université du Québec à Montréal.

A First Interuniversity Meeting With Pediatric Interest Groups

On April 8, physicians from our CSP network engaged in a videoconference with students from the pediatric interest groups at the Universities of Montreal, Laval, and Sherbrooke. The meeting identified promising strategies for promoting the CSP approach across medical universities.

We thank the participating students for their enthusiasm and motivation, as well as Dr. Stojanovic, Dr. Rousseau, Dr. Péloquin, Dr. Morantz, and Dr. Julien for their dedication to mobilizing the younger generations!
